American Studies Seminar
“Historical and Contemporary Perspectives on US Security Challenges”

The American College of Thessaloniki and the U.S. Consulate General of Thessaloniki will co-sponsor an American Studies Seminar on “Historical and Contemporary Perspectives on the U.S. Security Challenges,” Tuesday and Wednesday, May 20-22, 2008, at the Lecture Hall of the Thessaloniki Chamber of Commerce and Industry (29 Tsimiski St.). The seminar is third of four American Studies seminars organized by the U.S. Consulate in 2008. The seminar is organized with the support of the Thessaloniki Chamber of Commerce and Industry.

The American Studies Seminars are open to undergraduate and postgraduate students, young professionals and journalists. The seminars focus on U.S. history, politics and culture, and US- Greece and US- EU relations, and include lectures and panel discussions led by American and Greek academics and public figures. Seminar sessions are conducted in English.

Professor David Wisner, Chair of the ACT’s Department of Social Sciences and Director of the Michael S. Dukakis Chair in Public Policy and Service, and Dr. Manos Karayiannis, Lecturer at the Department of International and European Political and Economic Studies, University of Macedonia, are the academic coordinators of the May Seminar.

The speakers’ list includes Mr, Glyn Davies, U.S. Principal Deputy Assistant Secretary for European and Eurasian Affairs (via video teleconference), Marten van Heuven, Senior Consultant at Rand, and Theodore Couloumbis, Vice- President of ELIAMEP.

Certificates of participation will be awarded upon successful completion of the seminar.

Participation is free, on a first- come first- serve basis. For registration forms as well as further information please contact Dr. David Wisner at drd@ac.anatolia.edu.gr or through 2310- 398227
